7 (12) TtP:1

1) Very many evil things are sure to happen if you do not put an end to the evil deeds of your brother, your uncle and officers of the State.

2) Your brother is a staunch hater of Brahmins and his end is near because of that hatred. He wantonly got Reddy appointed as the I.G. of Education although he [and Mr Dekhan were] perfectly aware of his having misbehaved with a girl student in the College.

3) Every Department of Govt. in your State is rotten owing to the appointment of ~~unworthy~~ worthless natives on big salaries. Many evils are sure to accrue to the State on account of their misbehaviours.

4) The Dewan is the son of a poor Panchanga reading Brahmin and therefore mean minded. He appoints useless officers on high salaries and brings about ruin.

It seems worth while to preserve his letter as an evidence of his ~~ignorance~~ folly

5) I have addressed six more ~~letters~~ memos; and the officers I have already foretold a good many bad [have] paid the penalty of death.

6) If Brahmins are driven to take up the plough and the spade, it is an evil omen to you.

7) Every department of the State is rotten; officers are bad, work slack, records unsatisfactory. I shall [go on] dealing with each deptt. in a separate Memo & also let you have a Plan of good administration.
